

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you.

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

In Honor of Four Popular Visitors. Mrs. Carrie McC. Patrick entertained at a charming little picture show party last night in honor of Miss Caroline Banks of Columbia, Miss Sara Louise Blanton of Jacksonville, Carlo Ortale of Italy and C. T. Gause of Augusta. These attractive young visitors have been the recipients of many delightful social attentions and have made many friends during their visits here. Mrs. Patrick proved herself a most charming hostess for the young people.

Delightful Rook Party. Miss Louise Adams entertained a few friends at a delightful little informal party on Tuesday evening, in honor of Miss Kathleen Fant of Wall-halla.

Three tables were arranged in the parlor and some time was pleasantly spent playing rook, after which dainty refreshments were served. The guests for the evening were Misses Kathleen Fant, Clarice Townsend, Eunice Dean, Sara Frances Stevens, Elma Osborne Blanton of Jacksonville, Dan Ledbetter, Frank Paget, James Kinard, Martin Neely and Paul Diver of Atlanta.

For Miss Bradley. A charming little party for yesterday afternoon was given by Mrs. F. A. Carter in honor of her sister, Miss Caroline Bradley of Washington, Ga. Nasturtiums were used in profusion throughout the house, and in the parlor, where tables were arranged for cards.

At two tables rook was played, and the guests at the other two tables played auction. A delightfully pleasant afternoon was spent by all.

After the cards were laid aside Mrs. Carter served an elegant salad course, proving herself a most skillful housekeeper and a very gracious hostess.

The guests invited to meet Miss Bradley were: Mrs. T. L. Cely, Mrs. L. S. Horton, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. C. P. Greene, Mrs. M. C. Dixon, Mrs. Ed Kinsey, Mrs. Jesse Wall, Mrs. Julia May Fisher, Misses Lucy and Tassie Pringle, of Charleston, Mona Coleman of Eastman, Ga., Lydia and Nelle Bewley.

Beautiful Reception. A beautiful reception for quite a number of the members of the social set was given on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Rufus Burris at her handsome home on Calhoun street.

Her honor guests were: Misses Genevieve and Helen Hunter, two charming young women from Massachusetts, who have come to Anderson to make their home, and Misses Tassie and Lucy Pringle, two popular visitors from Charleston.

Mrs. Burris' beautiful home was particularly attractive with lovely flowers and brilliant lights, where Japanese lanterns were hung all around the porch.

In the receiving line with the handsome hostess and her pretty honor guests were Mrs. M. C. Dixon and Mrs. M. E. Bradley of Clemson College. Receiving the guests at the door and assisting Mrs. Burris in entertaining were Mrs. Clarence Brock and Mrs. C. F. Ross.

In the dining room shasta daisies and asparagus fern made the effective decorations, and here a dainty sweet course was served.

From a cosy nook on the porch, delightful nectar was served during the evening by Misses Frances Anderson and Helen Harris. About 75 were present and fully enjoyed this beautiful occasion.

Party Tonight. Miss Frances Anderson has issued invitations for this evening at her home on Calhoun street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Vandiver and Edward and Sanford Vandiver spent yesterday in Greenville. They went over in their automobile.

Miss Caroline Vance of Columbia arrived in the city yesterday and is the guest of Mrs. Jessie Brown.

Mr. Claud Crosby and Miss Lucile Crosby of Chester, Miss Rosamond Burdine, and Miss Mattie Hall have been spending the past few days in Atlanta. They made the trip in Mr. Crosby's car. On their return in a day or so Miss Crosby will spend some time here as the guest of Mrs. Frank Hall.

Misses Margaret, Lucia and Ruth Archer have returned from a ten days visit to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Bolt and their guests, Miss Evelyn Calmes and Miss Laura Ruff of Meridian, Miss., went to Union yesterday in Mr. Bolt's automobile for a brief visit.

Mrs. A. L. Adams of Charlotte is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Stevens.

Miss Mab Bonham is visiting friends in Greenville.

Mrs. J. C. Blanton has returned from a trip to New York and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. B. Blackley.

CARE OF ORPHANS IS PROBLEM IN FRANCE

Politics and Religion Clash Over Methods for Rearing Children of Fallen Heroes.

Paris, July 14.—Notwithstanding efforts to avoid any friction that would mar the "sacred union" of the French people in wartime, sentiment, politics and religion have developed something of a clash over the proper treatment of orphans.

The fixing of a "tag day" for the collection of funds for the "Orphanage of the Armies" and the discussion of the proposed legislation affecting the future wars of the nations, has brought about ill feeling in some quarters. "The Orphanage of the Armies" is one of the most recent of three large organizations seeking to cope with the orphan problem. Patronized by President Poincare, and accorded the "tag day" privilege by the minister of the interior, to the exclusion of the other societies it has been given a semi-official character, which drew the antagonism of the religious elements.

Sentiment rebelled against the classing of the orphans as dependents of the government and devout people became alarmed lest the control of the education of children should develop arbitrary pressure against religious training. Politicians, too, became suspicious that some of the charitable organizations might try to exercise a religious influence on future citizens. The two other organizations that claim the right to share in the administration of contributions for the orphans, are "The Orphans of the War" and "The Fraternal Union of the Children of the War." Both of these profess to be non-sectarian. The former was the first in the field, and has furnished homes for more than a thousand orphans at Etretat and Jun-les-Pins. The relatives of the children decide whether they shall be brought up religiously or not, and, if religiously, whether in the Catholic or Protestant faith. The other organization is endeavoring to find boys and girls of well-to-do families who will adopt the child of some fallen hero as a brother or sister and help it to make its way in life without taking it away from its own home.

In view of the fact that the different Catholic orphanages were not to share in the proceeds from the "tag day" collection, the Pope issued in France that the Catholics should hold their corporation. Finally, deputies from different and extremely divided parties introduced in the chamber a bill providing for the participation of the society of the "Orphans of the War" and other organizations of the same character. This has forced the new society of the "Orphanage of the Armies" to abandon its exclusive attitude, which was to centralize in its own hand all the charitable efforts for orphans of the war.

At the same time the minister of public instruction has introduced in the senate a bill to provide for orphans' pensions sufficient to meet the material wants of the children, leaving the orphans in the care of the surviving parent, if there is one, or the nearest relative, where that disposition is possible, and in other cases providing for their bringing up with the least possible official intervention. The law provides for special advantages for orphans of the war in all educational establishments. The organization "Orphan of the War" is now receiving an average of a dozen orphans every day at its headquarters on the Quay de Orsay.

Drink More Water If Kidneys Bother

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headaches, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of E. C. Salts; take a teaspoonful for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. E. C. Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of E. C. Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

ROCKEFELLER HELPS BELGIAN REFUGEES

Supplies Sewing Machines and Cloth for Belgian Women in Holland.

The Hague, July 14.—British Quakers, or members of the society of friends, are working together with the representatives of the American Rockefeller Foundation in behalf of the 5,200 Belgian refugees, who have been provided with temporary homes by the Dutch government in the camp at Uden. The wooden barracks are occupied almost entirely by women and children, as most of the men who were first there have gone to fight in what is left of Belgium for the recovery of the rest of their national soil.

In the well-lighted and spacious workshops scattered about the camp, the Rockefeller Foundation has supplied a number of sewing machines and all the necessary material—wool, cotton and flannel—and the women and girls work steadily day after day, making garments of all kinds, apparently pleased to have something to do.

The Quakers, who, by their principles, are not permitted to go to war, are doing remarkable work in North-eastern France and Belgium in preparing future homes for the stricken civilians. They have provided them with lumber, tools, and workshops, and even here are building small portable bungalows, which the refugees can take with them when they find it possible to return to their country. They succeed in completing one bungalow a day at a cost of about $200, each building including a comfortable living room and kitchen combined, and two bedrooms.

An occasional visit is paid to the refugees camp by representatives of the Rockefeller Foundation, while the Dutch Ministers and high officials and their wives also take great interest in the welfare of the Belgian guests of the Dutch nation. On the day of the visit of The Associated Press correspondent Mrs. Cor van der Linden, wife of the premier, also went through the camp and in her honor a great Dutch flag made by the refugees themselves floated from the flagstaff of the camp.

Remodeling Store Front. The front of the store room in the Thompson building formerly occupied by the Breazeale tailoring establishment is being remodeled. When finished it will have a front equal to that of any store room in Anderson.

FOR VAUDEVILLE LOSING GROUND

Contest Will Run for Three More Day—Last Few Day's Vote Indicates no Vaudeville.

The standing of the vote in the vaudeville contest, which is now being run by Manager Pinkston, was reported last night as being for vaudeville 385 votes ahead.

This side has been losing ground every since Monday night when there was a majority of 635 votes. Tuesday night the votes for vaudeville lead by 520 votes, a loss of 115 votes. Last night as stated above the vote stood at 385, or a loss from the day before of 135.

There remains only three more days and if the vote continues like it has for the past three, Anderson will probably not have vaudeville.

PICNIC WAS HELD NORTH ANDERSON

About 100 Mothers and Children Spent Enjoyable Day in Park Out There.

Yesterday morning at 9:30 two street cars loaded with passengers, mostly women and children, left the square for the park in North Anderson where the Salvation Army picnic was held.

This picnic was planned by Ensign Becher for the poor mothers and children in the city who very seldom have a chance to have an outing. About 100 took advantage of the opportunity and the day was pronounced a great success.

Judge Wilson Ill. Judge G. S. Wilson underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Anderson county hospital Tuesday. He had come to Anderson from his home in Williamston to visit his sister, Mrs. D. S. Vandiver, and was taken ill. He was rushed to the hospital and the operation performed. He is on a speedy road to recovery.

Dear Readers:

If you give me the pleasure of a visit you will be pleasantly surprised and gratified to find how much better I am now able to attend to your optical wants. This optical establishment is just a little ahead of this city and in keeping with those to be found in larger cities. There is no cause for you to leave Anderson when you desire the service of a skilled optometrist whose facilities and equipment cannot be excelled anywhere.

It is an added pleasure for me to tell you that I have a modern lens grinding shop in connection with my optical parlors. This fact enables me to repair broken lenses while you wait, if you will bring me the broken pieces, I am able to get out prescription work the same day it is received. This eliminates the delay and annoyance of waiting while your prescription is sent out of town.

All the work from the examination of the eye to the finished lenses and fitting of glasses is done under my personal supervision. Knowing that the work is right, I do not hesitate to guarantee satisfaction.

Bear me in mind please when I can be of further service to you.

Yours very truly,
